How We Use or Disclose Your Medical Information

For Treatment - We will use medical information about you to provide you with treatment and services. We may share this information with members of our health care staff or with others involved in your care such as doctors, nurses, or health care facilities. For example, a nurse who is providing your care will report any changes in your condition to your doctor. We may also disclose your health information to a member of your family or other person who is involved in your care.

For Payment - We may use or disclose your medical information to bill and collect payment for the services we provided to you. For example, we may need to give your health insurance plan information about your diagnosis, treatment, and supplies used. We may also contact your insurance plan to confirm your coverage or to request prior approval for a planned treatment or service.

Health Care Operations - We may use or disclose your medical information for operational purposes. For example, we may use your medical information to evaluate our services, including the performance of our staff in caring for you. We may also use this information to learn how to continually improve the quality and effectiveness of the health care services that we provide to you.

Your name and address may be used to send out patient satisfaction surveys. We may contact you either by telephone or by mail at your home or your office to remind you of an appointment that you have with us or any other matter related to your care. We may also use or disclose medical information about you to notify those persons of your location, general condition, or death. If there is a family member, other relative, close friend, or close friend to whom you do not want us to disclose medical information about you, please notify us in writing.

Your Rights

The information contained in your health or medical record is the physical property of Millennium Physician Group. The information in it belongs to you. You have the following rights:

Rights to Request Restrictions - You have the right to ask us not to use or disclose your medical information for a particular reason related to treatment, payment, or our operations. You may ask that family members or other individuals not be informed of specific medical information. That request must be provided to us in writing. We do not have to agree to your request, unless the restriction relates to disclosure of your medical information relating to a specific item or service to your health plan for payment or health care operations, and you have already paid out-of-pocket, in full, for the specific item or service. If we agree to your request, we must keep the agreement, except in the case of a medical emergency. Either you or Millennium Physician Group can stop a restriction at anytime.

Right to Receive Confidential Communications - You have the right to ask that we communicate with you in a certain manner or at a certain place. If you want to request confidential communications, the request must be made in writing. We must agree to your request if it is reasonable.

Right to Inspect and Copy Your Medical Information - You have the right to request to inspect and obtain a copy of your medical information. You must submit your request in writing. If you request a copy of the information or if you request that we provide you with a summary of the information, we may charge a fee for the costs of copying, summarizing, and/or mailing it to you.

If we agree to your request, we will tell you. We may deny your request under certain limited circumstances. If your request is denied, we will let you know in writing and you may be able to request a review of our denial.

Right to Request Amendments to Your Medical Information - You have the right to request that we correct your medical information. If you believe that any medical information in your record is incorrect or that important information is missing, you must submit your request for an amendment in writing to Millennium Physician Group.

We do not have to agree to your request. If we deny your request, we will tell you why. You have the right to submit a statement disagreeing with our decision. We may deny your request if we determine that the information:

- Was not created by us
- Is not part of the medical information that we maintain
- Is in records that you are not allowed to inspect and copy
- Is already accurate or complete

Right to an Accounting of Disclosures of Health Information - You have the right to find out what disclosures of your medical information have been made. The list of disclosures is called an accounting. The accounting may be for up to six (6) years prior to the date on which you request the accounting, but cannot include disclosures before April 14, 2003.

We are not required to include disclosures for treatment, payment, or health care operations or certain other exceptions. Request for an accounting of disclosures must be submitted in writing. You are entitled to one free accounting in any twelve (12) month period. We may charge you for the costs of providing additional accountings. If there will be a charge, we will notify you in advance.

Right to Obtain a Copy of the Notice - You have the right to request and get a paper copy of this notice and any revisions we make to the notice at any time.
